ELECTOR MONDAY AUG. 3RD, 1891.

FOR CLERK OF COURT OF APPEALS,

A. ADDAMS,

of Harrison.

There is a rapidly increasing demand for Mr. C. L. Seay to make the race for the Legislature.

Those opposed to the new Constitution will assemble by representatives in Lexington to-day, and take action against the hydra-headed monster.

A FORCE BILL.

It is the opinion of Judge Sterling B.

Toney, of Louisville, expressed to the editor of the CLIMAX, on Monday, that the election clause in the new Constitution is simply a force bill. He bases his opinion on the Coy case at Indianapolis, in which Coy was sent to the penitentiary for ten years, by a Federal Court, for attempting to influence a State election held at the same time as a National election. The U. S. Supreme Court held that the Government has juris-isdiction and supervision over all elections held on the same day of a National election. As the new Constitution requires all elections to be held on the same day, our State, county and town elections will be subject to the supervision of Federal judges. Do you want the Government to run our local elections?

THAT OPEN CLAUSE IN THE PROPOSED

CONSTITUTION.

The advocates of the new Constitution admit that it contains some egregious blunders, but pass them over with the remark, "Oh, they can be remedied by the open clause." Let us examine this so-called open clause:

The new Constitution says that no amendment shall be offered in the first Legislature after the adoption of the new Constitution, and that not more than two amendments can be offered at one time. The said Constitution further provides that the first General Assembly to work under its provisions shall convene in January, 1893. And still further, that amendments adopted by the people shall be submitted to the people for ratification at the next regular election for Representatives, or in 1895.

Thereupon it follows that no amendments to the Constitution can be considered until 1895, and then only two; and

CLEVELAND IN KENTUCKY.

Representative McCreary Says the Ex-

President is Still the Favorite.

(Washington Evening Star.)

Considerable importance has been attached to the failure of the Democratic Convention in Kentucky to say a good word for Mr. Cleveland when the opportunity was offered. This was supposed to be an indication of a growing hostility to the ex-President among the silver-loving Southern people.

Representative McCreary, who is probably as well acquainted with the average run of people in Kentucky as any man in Congress, who represents the first district in the magnificent blue-grass region of agriculture, was a member of the Convention and was generally in touch with his associates there. He was in Washington to-day and in conversation with a State reporter he said that the public generally outside Kentucky are entirely mistaken if they think the Convention was not favorable to Mr. Cleveland.

NO SIGNIFICANCE ATTACHED TO THE EP-ISODE.

"At least two-thirds of the members were admirers of Mr. Cleveland and the general sentiment was friendly to him.

He is strong in the State and strong there. There is no significance at all to be attached to the Cleveland resolution episode, which happened at the end of the Convention. All the regular work had then been done and but few delegates were present. I was absent, as many others were, and I understand that there were not more than a dozen who were not in the hall when the resolution was offered and withdrawn.

I talked around among the members of the Convention and I know I am correct when I say that there was a strong and prevailing Cleveland sentiment among the delegates to the Convention. The silver resolution meant free coinage and there is a very general sentiment in the State in favor of free coinage. But with regard to Mr. Cleveland they feel thus:

THEIR FEELING TOWARD CLEVELAND.

"They believe him to be able, honest and patriotic. They consider him a staunch Democrat, a natural leader and a statesman, and they hope that things will shape themselves as to make him the nominee of the next Democratic National Convention. They understand, as he does, that he must carry New York, and they believe that he is patriotic enough not to seek the nomination if the situation in that State is such as to lead him to believe that he cannot carry it. I think I sum up the prevailing sentiment in Kentucky when I say that there is no disposition to force Mr. Cleveland's nomination, but that they hope that the political situation will be such as to make him the party nominee. Whenever his name was mentioned in the Convention it was greeted with loud applause, and on the night of the third day, when all the fire-works had been set off and general enthusiasm had cooled down, I mentioned his name in a speech nominating a candidate for Attorney General in connection with those of Jefferson and Jackson, and the applause was very enthusiastic.

THE TARIFF THE GREATEST ISSUE.

"While the silver question is an important one, and we believe in free coinage, I do not think it is going to be the great issue in the next presidential campaign. The tariff is the greatest issue still and it will be in that campaign. I think the silver question will be taken out of politics before that time. When the next Congress meets the House will pass a free coinage bill, probably before Christmas. The Senate will pass it and

LAURENCE OLYMPHANT.

The career of no other person in the present century has been more varied and more extraordinary than that of Laurence Olympant. He was by turns a barrister, an adventurer, a diplomat, the private secretary to Lord Elgin, a brilliant favorite of society, a religious devotee, an ox-driver in an obscure Western village, the Paris correspondent of the London Times, an author, an operator in Wall Street, a cycle philosopher, the projector of a gigantic colonisation scheme in Palestine, a visionary religious teacher—but through all these phases of his life, he was a man so brilliant in intellect, and so earnestly devoted to his convictions of duty, that even those who most deplored his idiosyncrasies were obliged to admire his genius and integrity.

These many people in New York and Washington who remembered with pleasure his charming presence and captivating manners, and who from personal acquaintance with him, regarded him as one of the most remarkable characters of our times. The memoir of his life by his children and his intimate friends, Mrs.

Margaret Olympant, which has just been published in two handsome volumes by Harper & Brothers, is the most interesting biography written since Boswell's

Johnson.

The two negroes from Clay county, who murdered Marshal Wells at Junction

City, and were sentenced to the penitententiary for 21 years, have been granted a new trial by the Court of Appeals, on the ground that they were refused an attorney from their own state.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK.

To the people of Madison County:

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Clerk of Madison County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

While it is true, I have served in the past several years, this has not the better qualified me for the position. I have been a member of the bar, litigant, juror, and have had a long and varied experience in the law. I am a native of this county, and have a deep interest in its welfare. I am a member of the Democratic party, and believe in its principles.

Most respectfully,

W. H. MILLER.

S. H. THORPE, JR., is a candidate for Clerk of the Madison County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

R. G. POWELL, of Speedwell, is a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk of Madison County, subject to the action of the Democratic party.
